

Brianne M. Suldovsky, Ph.D.

Arlin M. and Neysa Adams Post Doctoral Fellow in the Science of Science Communication
Annenberg Public Policy Center
The University of Pennsylvania
Web: <https://briannesuldovsky.wordpress.com/>
Email: briannes@upenn.edu
Phone: (208)-597-6473

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Communication, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine, 2016
Master of Arts, Communication, Washington State University, Pullman, Washington, 2012
Bachelor of Science, Communication, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, 2010
Bachelor of Science, Philosophy, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho, 2010

PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

Postdoctoral Fellow in the Science of Science Communication, Annenberg Public Policy Center,
The University of Pennsylvania, 2016-current

Research Fellow, New England Sustainability Consortium, The University of Maine, 2013-2016

Graduate Teaching Assistant / Instructor, Department of Communication and Journalism, The University of Maine, 2013-2015

Research Fellow, Sustainability Solutions Initiative, The University of Maine, 2012-2013

Graduate Teaching Assistant / Instructor, Edward R. Murrow College of Communication,
Washington State University, 2010-2012

PEER REVIEWED PUBLICATIONS

Suldovsky, B. (2016). In science communication, why does the idea of the public deficit always return? Exploring key influences. Public Understanding of Science, 25(4), 415-426.

Smith, H., Suldovsky, B. & Lindenfeld, L. (2016). Science & Policy: Expertise and Individual Participation in Boundary Management. Journal of Applied Communication, 44(1), 78-95.

Smith, H., Suldovsky, B. & Lindenfeld, L. (2016) Mass communication research in sustainability science: Moving toward an engaged approach to address society's sustainability dilemma. Mass Communication and Society (in press).

Manuscripts in Progress

Suldovsky, B., McGreavy, B., & Lindenfeld, L. Who knows best? Exploring epistemic authority and stakeholder engagement in sustainability science.

Suldovsky, B., McGreavy, B. & Lindenfeld, L. How much do you know? Investigating the relationship between science communication practice and perceptions of expertise.

Suldovsky, B., Sabol, V., Weitman, E, & Lindenfeld, L. Media discourse and expertise surrounding shellfish flats in Maine and New Hampshire.

Suldovsky, B. Exploring the divide: Using environmental communication to move science communication forward.

Lindenfeld, L. & Suldovsky, B. Connecting local seafood to inland communities: The case of Seafood Links.

Lindenfeld, L., Jorgensen, B. & Suldovsky, B. Advancing faculty leadership and stakeholder engagement: The case of The University of Maine Faculty Fellows.

UNPUBLISHED PROFESSIONAL REPORTS

Lindenfeld, L., Smith, H., & Suldovsky, B. (January 2014). University of Maine Pathway One Communication Research & Implementation Project, Phase Three Technical Report. Prepared for the University of Maine Office of Innovation and Economic Development.

Bell, K., Lindenfeld, L., Safford, T., Grimm, C., Jones, S., McGreavy, B., Suldovsky, B., MacLagan, S. (October, 2013). New England Sustainability Consortium Stakeholder and Decision-Making Processes. Presented to the New England Sustainability Consortium team.

Lindenfeld, L., Smith, H., & Suldovsky, B. (August 2013). University of Maine & Maine's State Legislature Communication & Alignment Study, Survey Technical Report. Prepared for the University of Maine Office of Innovation and Economic Development.

Suldovsky, B. & Lindenfeld, L. (June 2013). Improving Science Communication Processes and Outcomes: White Paper. Prepared for the University of Maine Office of the President.

Lindenfeld, L., Smith, H., & Suldovsky, B. (November 2012). University of Maine Pathway One Communication Research & Implementation Project, Phase One Technical Report. Prepared for the University of Maine Office of Innovation and Economic Development.

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

Oral Presentations

Suldovsky, B. (January, 2016). Connecting Maine fishermen with inland markets. Table presentation at the Maine Marine Resources Exchange: Partnering Students and Industry, Belfast, Maine.

Suldovsky, B. (June 2015). Exploring the divide: Using environmental communication to move science communication forward. Member of a panel for the Conference on Communication and the Environment. Boulder, Colorado.

Smith, H., Suldovsky, B. & Lindenfeld, L. (November, 2013). Bridging the divide between science and policy in Maine. Member of a panel for the Applied Communication Division of the National Communication Association, Washington, D.C.

Suldovsky, B. (presenting) & Lindenfeld, L. (November, 2012). Connecting local seafood to inland communities. Member of a panel, “Community food initiatives” for the ‘From Famine to Foodies’ preconference seminar at the National Communication Association Conference, Orlando, Florida.

Suldovsky, B. & Norton, T. (November, 2012). Assessing typologies of mental models in irrigation practices: possibilities for communication and barriers to water conservation in the Spokane-Coeur d’Alene corridor. Member of a panel, “Opportunities and constraints for environmental collaboration, coalition and community” for the Environmental Division of the National Communication Association, Orlando, Florida.

Suldovsky, B. (February, 2012). Mental models and decision making regarding water allocation: Water resources in the Spokane-Coeur d’Alene corridor. Member of a panel, “Politics and communication in multi-jurisdictional water management: Case studies from the Northwest” for the Environmental Communication Interest Group of WSCU, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Poster Presentations

Suldovsky, B. (presenting), McGreavy, B. & Lindenfeld, L. (November 2015). How much do you know? Science communication & stakeholder expertise. Poster presentation, National EPSCoR Conference, New Hampshire.

McGreavy, B. (presenting), Suldovsky, B., & Lindenfeld, L. (February, 2015). A Communication Systems Framework for Sustainability Science. Poster presentation AAAS Annual Meeting, San Jose, CA.

Lindenfeld, L., Johnson, T., & Suldovsky, B. (presenting) (March 2014). The Seafood Links Project: Promoting Sustainable Seafood in Maine's Inland Areas. Poster presentation for the annual Sea Grant Symposium

Suldovsky, B., McGreavy, B. (presenting), MacLegan, S., Bell, K., Jones, S., & Lindenfeld, L. (March 2014). Decision-making processes for beach and shellfish management: A scoping analysis for NEST's Safe Beaches and Shellfish Project. Poster presentation for the annual Maine Water Conference.

Suldovsky, B. (presenting) & Lindenfeld, L. (November 2013). Seafood Links. Poster presentation for "Food and Communication" preconference at National Communication Association, Washington, D.C.

Suldovsky, B., & Smith, H. (September, 2013). Connecting Science & Policy in Maine. Poster presentation for the annual EPSCoR conference. Orono, Maine.

McGreavy, B., Suldovsky, B., Hutchins, K. & Smith, H. (September, 2012) The knowledge to action collaborative. Poster presentation for the annual EPSCoR conference. Orono, Maine.

Suldovsky, B. (October, 2010). The gender climate in cross-disciplinary dialogue. Conference poster presentation for "Enhancing Communication in Cross-disciplinary Research", Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

KEY NOTE PRESENTATIONS

Suldovsky, B. (March 2015). Let's Talk Science. Invited Key Note Speaker, Expand Your Horizons Annual EPSCoR Conference, Orono, Maine.

GUEST LECTURES

Suldovsky, B. (May, 2016). Communicating who knows what: The role of epistemology in science communication and engagement. Invited as a guest speaker in the special short course "The Civic Science Lab: Engaging the Public and Policy Makers" by Dr. Matthew Nisbet, sponsored by the Climate Change Institute, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

Suldovsky, B. (March, 2015). Survey Design. Invited as a guest speaker in an undergraduate research methods course, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

Suldovsky, B. (March, 2014). Science Communication. Invited as a guest speaker for an undergraduate course, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

Smith, H. & Suldovsky, B. (February, 2013). Researching the Maine State Legislature. Invited as a guest speaker in an undergraduate digital journalism course, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

Suldovsky, B. (November, 2010; November, 2011). The graduate school experience. Invited as a panel guest at a McNair student seminar, University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

The University of Maine, Instructor

Public Relations	Summer 2014 (online); Fall 2014
Communication & the Environment (large lecture class)	Fall 2014
Business & Professional Communication	Spring 2015
Fundamentals of Public Communication	Spring 2014; Spring 2015

Washington State University, Instructor

Public Speaking & Civic Engagement	Fall 2010 – Spring 2012
Principles of Small Group Communication	Summer 2011

WORKSHOP & FACILITATION EXPERIENCE

Suldovsky, B. & Littlefield, A. (March 2016; May 2016). Conducted two science communication trainings with graduate students working with the Sustainable Ecological Aquaculture Network (SEANET). The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.

- Suldovsky, B. (April 2016). Conducted science communication training with graduate students in Communication & Journalism. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Suldovsky, B. (November, 2015). Conducted science communication training with graduate students working with the Psychology Department. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Suldovsky, B. (November, 2015). Facilitated a two-day collaboration workshop in sustainability breakout session at the National EPSCoR Conference. Portsmouth, New Hampshire.
- Suldovsky, B. (October, 2015). Conducted science communication workshop with graduate students in the Climate Change Institute. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Suldovsky, B. (October, 2015). Conducted a two-day research methods workshop with undergraduate students in the Maine Policy Scholars program. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Suldovsky, B. (October, 2015). Distilling Your Message. Science communication workshop with The University of Maine Faculty Fellows.
- Suldovsky, B. (May, 2015; May 2016). Public Speaking Workshop. Presentation at the Maine NEW Leadership conference. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine
- Suldovsky, B. (March, 2015). Conducted a conference poster presentation workshop with graduate students in communication, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Lindenfeld, L. & Suldovsky, B. (February, 2014). Conducted science communication workshop with graduate students in psychology, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- O’Leary, J. & Suldovsky, B. (September, 2014). Distilling Your Message. Presentation at the Elect Her annual convention. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Suldovsky, B. (September, 2014). Conducted science communication workshop with graduate students in the Climate Change Institute. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
- Lindenfeld, L. & Suldovsky, B. (October, 2014). Distilling Your Message. Science communication workshop with The University of Maine Faculty Fellows.
- Lindenfeld, L. & Suldovsky, B. (December, 2013). Conducted science communication workshop with graduate students in psychology, The University of Maine, Orono, Maine.
-

MEDIA

- Sims, D. (2016). News – The Philosophy of Science Communication, Senator George J. Mitchell Center for Sustainable Solutions, <http://umaine.edu/mitchellcenter/news/news-2/the-philosophy-of-science-communication/>
- Kahl, E. (2013). Communication Research Focuses on Reeling in the Benefits of State Seafood for Consumers, The University of Maine News, <https://umaine.edu/news/blog/2013/05/10/caught-in-maine/>
-

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES

- ❖ Science Communication Webinar through Future Earth – data visualization (October, 2015)
 - ❖ Science Communication Webinar through Future Earth – science blogging (September, 2015)
 - ❖ Collaborative Writing Workshop (April, 2015)
 - ❖ Grant Writing Workshop (February, 2014; April, 2015)
 - ❖ Publication Workshop (February, 2015)
 - ❖ CV/Resume Building Workshop (January, 2015)
 - ❖ Alan Alda Center for Communicating Science 2-day Intensive Science Communication Workshop. The University of Maine, Orono, Maine (March, 2014)
 - ❖ Alan Alda Center for Communicating Science 3-day Intensive Science Communication ‘Train the Trainer’ Workshop. Stony Brook University, Long Island, New York (June, 2013)
 - ❖ Knowledge to Action Workshop (September, 2012)
-

FUNDED DOCTORAL RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Suldovsky, B., McGreavy, B. & Lindenfeld, L. Exploring the Role of Expertise in Crosscutting Collaboration, Stakeholder Engagement and Science Communication. Funder: The New England Sustainability Consortium, National Science Foundation. Estimated Completion: October, 2015

Suldovsky, B., Weitman, E. & Lindenfeld, L. Newspaper Coverage of Shellfish in Maine and New Hampshire: A Media Discourse Analysis. Funder: The New England Sustainability Consortium, National Science Foundation. Estimated Completion: December 2015

Lindenfeld, L., Johnson, T. & Suldovsky, B. The Seafood Links Project: Promoting Sustainable Seafood in Maine's Inland Areas. Funder: Maine Sea Grant. Estimated Completion: September 2015.

Lindenfeld, L. & Suldovsky, B. The Maine State Legislature Communication & Implementation Project. (2014) Funder: The Margaret Chase Smith Policy Center, The University of Maine. Completed.

Lindenfeld, L., Smith, H., & Suldovsky, B. (2013). University of Maine Pathway One Communication Research & Implementation Project. Funder: The Office of Innovation and Economic Development, The University of Maine. Completed.

Lindenfeld, L., Suldovsky, B., Jorgensen, B. & Smith, H. The UMaine Faculty Fellows Program Evaluation Project. Funder: The Office of the President, The University of Maine. Estimated Completion: N/A (annual program)

SERVICE

- ❖ Reviewer for academic journal: Weather, Climate and Society (ongoing)
- ❖ Reviewer for academic journal: Biological Invasions (ongoing)
- ❖ Reviewer for conference submissions, National Communication Association Environmental Communication Division (ongoing)
- ❖ Served as a communication consultant for Sustainable Harvest International, an international nonprofit promoting sustainable farming practices in Central America (2015 – 2016)
- ❖ Conducted a public speaking workshop at the annual Maine NEW Leadership program (May 2015; May 2016)

- ❖ Volunteered to conduct a 7-hour intensive public communication workshop with the Bangor Mason Society (February, 2015)
- ❖ Served as a Public Speaking Coach (July, 2014)
- ❖ Volunteered as a judge for the 4-H Regional Public Speaking Tournament (March, 2014)
- ❖ Volunteered with the University of Idaho Women's Center (Fall 2009)

HONORS AND AWARDS

- ❖ The University of Maine, Outstanding Graduate Student, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 2016
- ❖ The University of Maine, Outstanding Doctoral Student, Department of Communication and Journalism, 2016
- ❖ Winner of Public Understanding of Science's Young Scholar Competition, 2015
- ❖ Washington State University, Outstanding Graduate Student Teaching Award, 2012
- ❖ University of Idaho, Philosophy Student of the Year, 2009-2010

MENTORSHIP & LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

President of the Graduate Student Association, Communication & Journalism Department, The University of Maine, 2014 - 2015

Supervisor for the Undergraduate Research Assistant Program, The New England Sustainability Consortium, The University of Maine, 2013 - 2016

Supervisor for the Undergraduate Research Assistant Program, Sustainability Solutions Initiative, The University of Maine, 2012 - 2013

Vice President of the Communication Graduate Student Government, Edward R. Murrow College of Communication, Washington State University, 2011 - 2012